

GRAPE SEEDS EXTRACT AND VENOUS INSUFFICIENCY

Oligomeric proanthocyanidins (OPCs) are the main active constituents found in Grape seeds and are possibly some of the most important natural products to be discovered in the last decade. Grape seeds extract shows strong anti-oxidant effect against cardiovascular diseases, inhibits destruction of collagen, strengthens capillary walls and blood vessels, decreases edema, and sharply reduces venous insufficiency. Anti-bacterial, anti-viral, anti-carcinogenic, anti-inflammatory, anti-allergic.

1 CUP OF FINEST GREEN TEA IN 1 TABLET!

Green tea is reportedly contains the highest concentration of powerful antioxidants called polyphenols. Antioxidants are substances that scavenge free radicals - damaging compounds in the body that alter cells, tamper with DNA (genetic material), even cause cell death. It is reported that Green tea promotes anti-aging and anti-carcinogenic processes, prevents atherosclerosis and coronary artery disease, lowers total blood cholesterol and raises HDL ("good") cholesterol, controls blood sugar, protects the liver from toxins, boosts metabolism and helps controlling the weight.

REDUCE WITH GARCINIA – NEW SERIES OF WEIGHT-LOSS PRODUCTS

Preliminary research indicates that Garcinia Cambogia may modulate blood fat levels and have a positive effect on energy and metabolism. Garcinia may cause the body to use existing body fat for energy during prolonged exercise. Ordinarily, carbohydrates are used first during exercise. Individuals using Garcinia, combined with niacin-bound chromium and a reduction in dietary fats, had three times the weight loss of those on diet alone.
